A Bit of History on Our Hosts...

The Griffin family, proprietors of Diamond D Boarding Stables, Inc, and Diamond D Ranch, Inc. which together boast nearly 600 acres, are a historic part of an old and dying tradition of cattle ranchers in northeast Florida. Back in the old days, Jewel and Sonny Boy would pack a lunch and be gone all day to survey on their herd of longhorn steers, inoculating, checking for illnesses, and searching for new arrivals. In those days, Sonny Boy and Jewel would work all week on the ranch with their cattle that roamed all the way from here to Middleburg, and then pack up for a weekend of fun at a local rodeo. While Sonny Boy calf-roped, Jewel would race her quarter horse, Murphy, against the rest of the cowboys—winning nearly every time—then drop him back to Western Pleasure and come home with the blue ribbons there as well. Jewel also taught her horse several tricks, including how to lie down and get back up on cue (which is rumored to be related to a certain still hidden in the back 40). Whether the moonshine rumor is fact or fiction, the lifetime spent in the outdoors and seeing life from the back of a horse is, and has always been, very real. Today, the majority of the Griffin family members still seek enjoyment in the company of the horse. Jewel and Sonny Boy's son, Michael Griffin, and his wife, Galynna, run Diamond D Ranch, which specializes in trail rides, parties and other special events. Daughter Cathy Melton trains and shows horses, and currently competes on the barrel circuit. Another daughter, Tammy Jordan, is a local equine veterinarian and also an avid barrel racing competitor. If any of the Griffins were asked what common thread bound their dreams, they would all reply, "A horse runs through it..."

And on Jennings State Forest...

Jennings State Forest is a nearly 24,000 acre forest preserve that covers territory in both Clay and Duval Counties. Jennings Forest prides itself on offering many options for people to enjoy during daylight hours while also maintaining its mission to protect and manage Florida's forest resources. The forest is currently set up with two primitive campsites. Hiking, bicycling, swimming, canoeing, and of course, horseback riding are all available in Jennings, as well as seasonal hunting. The forest is a part of the Florida State Forest Trail-trotters program, Florida State Trailwalkers, and the Great Florida Birding Trail. The Evans Trail Loop is an 18 mile permanently marked trail for horses; there are also two hiking trails: Fire and Water, and North Fork Black Creek Trail; and two canoe access points. There are 15 natural biological communities and several rare plants found in the forest.

On your ride through Jennings forest, you will see palmettos, scrub oaks, pines and other traditional North Florida flora and fauna, along with almost every type of natural Florida terrain imaginable: slope forests, sandhills, flatwoods, dome swamps, and blackwater streams—and of course, a host of wildlife ranging from deer to turkey to bobcats. We hope you enjoy your ride here, and please remember to stay on the marked trails, and to leave the forest as you found it.

SPECIAL AWARDS TROPHY HISTORY

EASTERN STATES CHALLENGE TROPHY (FLORIDA CUP) - Awarded annually to the rider, with the same horse, who has completed and accumulated the most points in any three of the now five 100 mile 3-Day rides in the East in one calendar year.

The Florida Cup was originally sponsored by FHA starting in 1966. This award has been considered the ultimate challenge for competitive trail riding.

3-Day 100 mile rides were modeled after the US Cavalry remount tests (1913-1922). The oldest 3-Day 100 mile ride, held over Labor Day weekend since 1936, is still managed by the Green Mountain Horse Association in South Woodstock, VT. The circuit of 100 mile rides starts in Florida and then works its way north to Virginia, New Jersey, Vermont and then Maine. The North Carolina 100 no longer exists as of 2006. The rides are still judged much like the original remount tests— 100% on the condition of the horse completing the ride within a prescribed window of time (15 hrs, 45 min.—17 hrs).

Points scored are 10 for winning a light, middle or heavyweight division, 7 for a second place, 5 for third, and 3 for fourth, with 5 additional for Grand Champion and 3 for Reserve Champion. Maximum possible is therefore 45 points.

Challenging as this is, it is interesting to note that in many years there have been at least 4 horses that are so close in points that it often comes down to the last ride of the season before the winner is declared. The trophy has been retired twice by horses that earned the title three times. The first was in 1972 by Sky Hopper riding Kamin Ku (NJ) and again in 1990 by Web Coleman riding Arabel (VT). Many others have come close by winning the award twice. You will recognize many well-known competitors... Lucille Kenyon on Pazzam, Judy Voll on Cobblebeck Juniper, Maggie Price on Ramegwa Priceless, Robin Culver on Cricket, Donna Smith on Smithshire Honey Glo and Steve and Dinah Rojek on a multitude of horses. Dinah's Atilanch earned the award in 1981 and four of his offspring took home the trophy 6 times.
